Applicant:	Terri L. Butler et al.	Examiner:	Traviss C. McIntosh, III
Serial Number:	10/692,338	Group art unit:	1623
Filed:	23 October 2003	Docket:	BP.012US2
Title:	COMPOSITIONS AND METHODS FOR IMPROVING CARDIOVASCULAR FUNCTION

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION

On June 28, 2005, I submitted some supplemental information that I considered material to the patentability of the above patent application. I now update that supplement with an additional two months history of sales of the product of the invention by the assignee, Bioenergy, Inc.. The estimated 2005 sales based on sales through July 31, 2005 is now calculated as about $700,000 for calendar year 2005, estimated as 12/7 of the sales through July, a very conservative estimate. The actual sales for the year, based on the derivative of the slope, are expected to be about $1.2-1.3 million.

The second figure is submitted only to show another aspect of commercial success. Note the beginning and increasing sales of the bar section "Pvt Label." Several clinics and physicians are requesting the product privately labeled for their distribution.

Thank you for considering this information. I would be pleased to submit this information formally with an affidavit from the Bioenergy vice-president for sales, if Examiner McIntosh requests.
